INTRODUCTION

Luce Fabbri was born in Rome, Italy in 1908. She was the daughter of the anarchist publicist Luigi Fabbri. Luce Fabbri studied literature in Bologna. She left Italy illegally for reuniting with her exiled parents in Paris and joined them after their expulsion from France to Belgium and then to Montevideo, Uruguay. She assisted her father in publishing Studi Sociali, which she continued after his death until 1946.

Then she became a teacher of history at a secondary school. During the Spanish Civil War she published El Risurgimiento and during the Second World War she was editor of the Italian page of Socialismo y Libertad. She taught Italian literature at the University of Montevideo from 1949 until 1991, interrupted from 1974-1986 by the military regime.

She is the author of 'I Canti dell'Attesa' 1932, 'Camisas Negras' 1935, '19 de Julio - Antología de la Revolución Española' (under the pseudonym Luz de Alba) 1937, 'La Poesía de Leopardi' 1971, 'Luigi Fabbri - Storia d'un uomo libero' (not yet published) and of many pamphlets and of contributions to libertarian and literary periodicals in Uruguay, Argentine and after 1945 also Italy. Her papers were received at the IISH in 1995. The main part consists of letters received as editor of Studi Sociali. Files of correspondence with Giovanna Berneri and Rodolfo Mondolfo had already been created by Luce Fabbri. Together with these files an alphabetical series has been formed of the most frequent names. The remaining correspondence has been arranged in a chronological series. The papers also contain a series of correspondence, mainly concerning the Spanish Civil War 1936-1939. However, the researcher will also find correspondence on this subject in the chronological and alphabetical series of these papers.

Letters by others to Bianca Sbriccoli Fabbri 1950, 1952 and letters to Torquato Gobbi are also to be found in these papers. A few photographs have been transferred to the audiovisual section and a periodical and a pamphlet have been transferred to the library of the IISH.

The size of this part of the papers is 0.5 m.

LIST OF THE ACCRUAL 2001

This accrual to the papers of Luce Fabbri was acquired in 2001. The papers contained documents of Luigi Fabbri and Bianca Sbriccoli as well as papers from Luce Fabbri. The papers of Luce's mother Bianca Sbriccoli, covering a series of incoming letters from her husband Luigi Fabbri, were described as an annex at the end of this list. A few letters by Luce to her husband Ermacora Cressati were described at the end of this list as well. The papers of Luigi Fabbri were described in a separate list.

In arranging the papers the existing order has been maintained as far as possible. In general it was clear whether the papers were drawn up or received by Luce or by Luigi. However the user must be aware that the documents concerning the periodical Studi Sociali, where both Luigi and Luce were employed, should be consulted both in the list of the daughter and the father.

The first part of the papers were received in 1995 and were described in a separate list, containing the inv. nos. 1- 40. The series of correspondence do not exclude each other completely. To find all letters by a correspondent the general, private, alphabetical and chronological correspondence should be checked.

Books and periodicals have been transferred to the library and photographs to the audiovisual department of the institute.

The size of this part of the archives is 1.75 m. The total size is 2.25 m.
